

Dominic Bulfin promoted to Director

Bargate Murray, the multi award-winning Luxury Asset law firm, is delighted to announce the promotion of Dominic Bulfin to Director with effect from 1st March 2021.

Dom joined Bargate Murray as an Associate in 2019, having worked in the ship, yacht and trade finance teams at Clyde & Co, and was most recently promoted to Associate Director in 2020.

Quentin Bargate, Founder and CEO, comments:

“Dom has developed into a well rounded and very able member of our leadership team at Bargate Murray. He is particularly active in our Superyacht and Litigation departments, where he has gained the utmost respect of both clients and colleagues alike.

Dom has a key role to play in the coming months and years, and as a team player, he is well equipped to help take the firm forwards. He will be a great addition to our Board”.

Dom Bulfin, Director, comments:

“I am delighted to be joining the Board at Bargate Murray and to have the opportunity to work alongside Quentin and the Directors to navigate this great firm through many years of success in the future. I am grateful for the support of the other fee earners and staff, all of whom play a significant role in the firm’s continued success. I look forward to continuing my work with the firm’s existing clients, and to welcoming many more into the Bargate Murray family in the years to come”.
